

Are you a family carer of a person with a stroke and another long-term health condition living in the England who would like to participate in a research interview?

With your experience, we hope to better understand how we can support family carers who take over the management of a person with a stroke's other long term health condition(s) post-stroke.

This study will involve taking part in one individual interview

If you have any questions or would like further information, please email Anna Major, University of Southampton MSc Student Nurse, at: am1d20@soton.ac.uk or Supervisor Maria Carmen Portillo Vega, Professor of Long Term Conditions at the University of Southampton: M.C.Portillo-Vega@soton.ac.uk.
