

What should I do?

Speak to an adult at school

Once school know, they can make sure you get the support you need.

Referral to Surrey Young Carers

School can also refer you to us, Surrey Young Carers. Or your parent/guardian can refer you. Visit our website to find out more www.actionforcarers.org.uk/syc

Supporting schools

Surrey Young Carers can support schools too, training teachers, providing free resources, assembly support and more! We also have an accreditation scheme, the Angel Award. More on our website.

There's help for you

Surrey Young Carers (part of charity Action for Carers) is here to help Surrey's carers aged 5-17.

Depending on your situation, and how much caring you do, you'll be offered different levels of support.

However, all young carers registered with us:

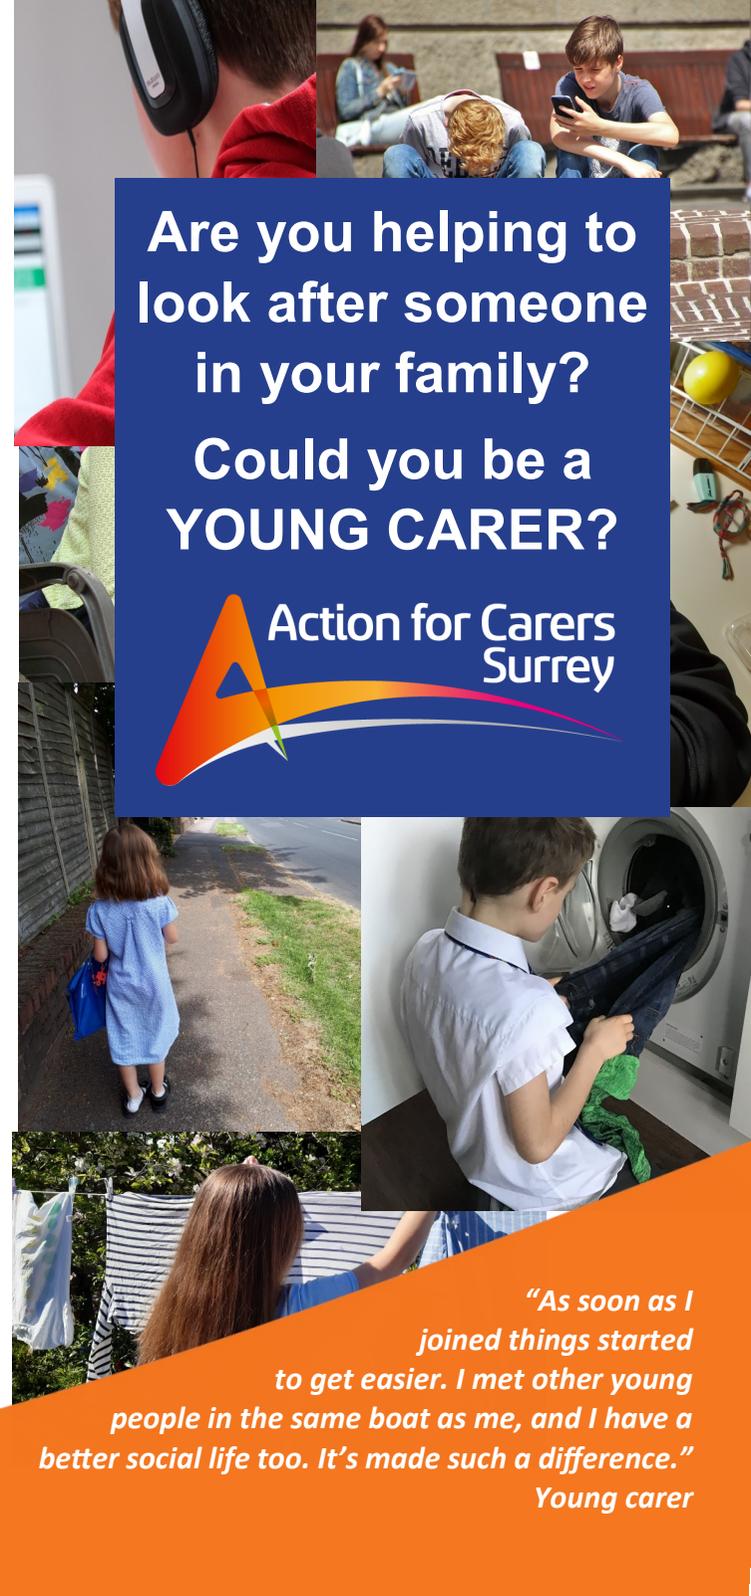

- Get support from our friendly and caring staff
- Can attend our 'drop ins' (youth clubs) that take place at venues across Surrey
- Get regular newsletters
- Are invited to a 'family fun day' every year
- Can join our Young Carers Forum, to share views and influence changes for young carers
- Are invited to other events, dependent on need

Caring roles can change over time, so we encourage our registered young carers to get in touch if they are experiencing difficulties, and if their situation changes.

Please get in touch today to find out how we can help YOU.

Are you helping to look after someone in your family?
Could you be a YOUNG CARER?

"As soon as I joined things started to get easier. I met other young people in the same boat as me, and I have a better social life too. It's made such a difference."

What's the definition of a young carer?

"We're under 18 and provide unpaid help and support for someone with a long term physical disability, mental health condition or problems with drugs and alcohol."

"Sometimes the person we care for relies on us and wouldn't be able to function without our help and support."

"We care for them not only practically but emotionally as well."

But there's help out there. Your school can offer you a lot of extra support once they know you're a young carer. Many schools have things like carers' clubs or extra time for home work, to help make life a bit easier for you.

And Surrey Young Carers, Action for Carers' service for carers aged 5-17, can also offer loads of help – advice, information, youth clubs, fun events and more. See reverse for details.

'Things have improved for me lately because one of the teachers has taken an interest and asked me how things were at home. I felt better once I told him, and I know he understands and will speak up for me if I get into trouble with homework or am late.'

Matthew, aged 14

So what might you be doing as a young carer?

Providing emotional support for someone in your family. This could be your mum if she is depressed or helping to calm down your brother/sister when they are angry. Listening to their worries, reassuring them and keeping them company.

If your parent has a mental health problem you may have to cope with them being anxious and worried or cope with mood swings and unusual behaviour.

You might have to do lots of extra chores, much more than your friends

Having extra responsibilities at home that your non caring friends don't. This could be, collecting the washing, mopping the floor, making breakfast, hoovering and watching over your family.

You might be...

- Helping to fill out forms/ managing bills and budgets.
- Taking them to the doctors and/or hospital appointments for check ups.
- Helping them to get ready, feeding them, making sure they are alright and telling them that everything is going to be ok.
- Translating for them if English isn't their first language or if they have a speech or hearing issue.

And all of this whilst trying to get yourself ready for school/college, do your homework AND see your friends.

It can be stressful and it can be hard to find time for you.
